Overview

COSI (Center of Science and Industry) wanted to add an agriculture exhibit to teach visitors about how food gets from the field to the table. COSI Studio designed a vaudeville stage show that uses humor, gastronomical functions and some unique actors to hold kids' attention during a 30-minute presentation. LifeFormations provided the characters and show motion effects to bring it all alive. The kids leave humming the theme song, and more importantly, remembering the message.
